SETS GARBAGE LICENSE DATE FRIDAY JUNE 25

In August the present license for collecting and hauling garbage and debris within the borough expires. In order to give the successful bidder ample time to make any necessary arrangements he might need to make in order to begin at once on the expiration of the present license, an early date for the receipt of applications has been set, Mayor William G. Weaver said today.

Weaver said that after meeting with the health committee and the borough solicitor, he has set the date as Friday, June 25, as the last day applications for licenses will be received. The forms on which the application must be made can be secured at the office of the borough secretary.

A change was made in the ordinance that governs the issuance of collection licenses at the June meeting of the council. The changes fix five years as the term of the licenses. It had formerly been two years with right of renewal.

The mayor under the authority of the ordinance that directs him to fix the amount of the required bond has set the sum of $20,000. The only bond that will be accepted, the mayor said, will be a corporate bond.

LICENSED TO WED

Robert E. Smith Jr., New Windsor, Md., and Norma J. Hornings, Taneytown, have secured a wedding license in Westminster.

Three people were injured in a two-car crash in Penn Twp. at 10:30 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of York and John Sts.

According to police, Nevin Ampacher, Glen Rock, was pulling out of John St. and had turned left to go west on York St. when he was hit by an eastbound sports car driven by Ronald Smeltzer, 23, Dallastown.

Smeltzer, Ampacher and Shirley Berwager, 20, New Oxford R. 1, a passenger in the Ampacher car, were taken to the Hanover General Hospital in the Penn Twp. and Midway ambulances, police said.

Damages estimated at $700 resulted from an accident at York and Pleasant Sts., Hanover, Saturday evening, police reported.

Officers said Allen E. Mundorff, 17, Littlestown R. 1, was driving south on York St., Hanover, and Ronald L. Lippy, 23, Hanover R. 3, drove in the path of the Mundorff vehicle and was struck broadside. Police said the Lippy car was pushed to the property of John E. Flickinger, York St., Hanover.

GUARDSMEN BRING HOME FIRING AWARD

Adams County's National Guard Howitzer Battery returned Saturday from its annual two-week summer encampment at Camp Pickett, Va., with the "best firing battery" award, the best instructor trophy and the best enlisted man trophy.

Sgt. David Nett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nett, Gettysburg R. 3, a member of the local unit for nine years, was awarded the "best instructor trophy" for the Second Squadron of the 104th Armored Cavalry. He also won second best honors in a class of 123 attending the projectionist school at Camp Pickett.

Pfc. Ronald Hartzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert B. Hartzell, Orrtanna R. 1, a member of the unit for 18 months, won the trophy for the "best enlisted man" in the regiment.

UNDER COMBAT CONDITIONS

The battery, for the second year in a row, won recognition as the "best firing battery in the 104th Armored Cavalry Regiment." The award came after the guardsmen were tested for an eight-hour period under simulated combat conditions with the other two Howitzer units of the 104th Armored. The test this year placed special emphasis on guerrilla warfare defense, road marches and battery firing positions.

The local guardsmen will hold a regular drill Sunday at their armory on W. Confederate Ave. The drill will begin at 7:45 in the morning with maintenance of weapons and equipment the principal duty scheduled for the drill.

Sgt. Robert Woodson, public information noncommissioned officer for the unit, said young men interested in joining the National Guard are invited to visit the local armory and watch the unit conduct its activities.

FACTS GIVEN TO COURT ON ANNEXATION

There are facts both favoring and opposing annexation of 307 acres of Conewago Twp. into Hanover according to the report of a court-appointed board of commissioners filed in the clerk of courts office.

In the course of its report the commission praised the volunteer firemen of Conewago Twp.; noted that the lack of a sewer system in the area proposed for annexation "has caused a condition which constitutes a threat to health of the residents of the area" and held the "boundary lines of the area proposed to be annexed are very irregular and in the opinion of this commission unnatural."

DIFFERENCE IN TAXES

The first part of the report lists general facts. The petition presented by residents of the area to Hanover asking annexation—which set in motion the actions which resulted in the matter coming before the court—according to the report contained 71 valid signatures out of 80 affixed. The report showed 128 "freeholders" in the area for annexation. Assessed valuation of the township is listed as $2,066,910 of which 13.83 percent is represented by the $288,800 assessed valuation of the proposed annexation area.

Conewago has a tax rate of four mills plus $5 per capita. Hanover has a tax rate of 16 mills plus $5 per capita. Conewago Twp. has no liabilities.

The only improvement in the annexation area is 1.39 miles of road. The commissioners said they had no testimony as to the value of the road, but only an engineer's estimate that it would cost $66,104 to replace the highways.

NEED SEWAGE DISPOSAL

The report holds that "whether or not the area is annexed municipal sewage disposal will be made available to the area."

The report also held that if the area is annexed to Hanover it

Damage to her auto was estimated at $200. The police report did not list the cause of the tree falling to the road.

Four persons, two of them children, escaped injury Sunday evening at 7 o'clock when the car of Sharon Eileen McManigle, 21, Falls Church, Va., struck a metal guard post a mile north of York Springs on the Harrisburg Rd. Police said the McManigle car failed to negotiate a long turn and struck the guard post causing $400 damage to the auto. YOUTH CORPS AT FAIRFIELD TRAINING 37

From maintenance to music — that's the scope of the Neighborhood Youth Corps program at Fairfield, first in Pennsylvania to receive federal and state approval.

Originally intended as an aid to student development the federal program under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 was extended to provide on-the-job training for youth between the ages of 16 and 21 from families of limited incomes. The program is designed to provide vocational, skilled and semiskilled training for boys and girls destined to conclude their formal educations in high school. It also is planned to attract dropouts under 21 to return to the classrooms for vocational educations.

TEACHES MUSIC

The Fairfield program, for which $12,110 was granted under the federal plan, is training 31 boys and six girls in construction, maintenance, office and library duties and institutional kitchen management. One student, a 17-year-old musician, is teaching 35 piano and trumpet pupils a way to earn sufficient money to enroll in a midwestern college in September.

All enrollees are paid $1.25 an hour during the training period, which will be extended for five weeks in August and September to compensate for a late start May 1. Trainees pay fifty cents for their noon luncheon. They will interrupt the training program from July 4-26 to assist local fruitgrowers in the annual cherry harvest and will complete projects under way by the opening date of school. All 37 pupils at Fairfield were enrolled in the high school during the 1964-65 school term.

AID TRAINING

"We encourage students to accept other employment when they can find it," says Dr. Curvin C. Smith, supervising principal of the Fairfield School System, who explains that the project is designed to "provide supervised training for boys and girls who may otherwise be unprepared to accept jobs after leaving school."

Six girls are working in the high school cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Hall to learn how to prepare and serve institutional meals. They currently prepare the daily noon meal for approximately 45 trainees and supervisors.

LIBRARY AIDE

One girl is working as a library aide to repair books in the school library and study other duties of a librarian. Another girl is learning office procedure by keeping all of the records for the project.

APPEAL FOR BLOOD DONORS THIS EVENING

A final appeal was made this afternoon for persons who wish to be blood donors to report to the Warner Hospital this evening between 7 and 9 o'clock to be typed for the donor list.

Miss Jane Stallsmith, chairman of the Sororist Club committee sponsoring the campaign and a technician at the hospital, said increased need for blood and depletion of the list established some years ago "make it necessary to secure a supply of new donors. Men from 18 to 60 and women, 18 to 55, may serve as donors. Those under 21 must have parental permission."

Miss Stallsmith said that since the beginning of this year 317 donors have been processed for transfusions at the hospital. Of that number 163 were for Type A blood, 115 for Type O, 22 for B and 17 for AB.

NEED ADEQUATE LIST

"While only 17 AB donors were required, all the requests came within a seven-week period, and since AB is the rarest type, we have only 15 active local names on the donor list. A donor may be used only every three months. Cooperation by college students met the need during the period, but college students are not present all year around."

Shastri Cannot Visit U.S. In Fall

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India said today President Johnson has invited him to go to Washington in the fall but that it will not be possible for him to accept.

He told a news conference he could not go to Washington then because the Indian Parliament will be in session.

Johnson canceled a visit by Shastri to Washington this month on the grounds that he would be busy with Congress and the Viet Nam situation.

The Indian leader said the attitudes of the countries involved in the Viet Nam conflict have "greatly stiffened" in the last month or so.

There would be a better climate for some kind of negotiations if the U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam stopped, he said.

of the Reserves, a special massing of colors, carrying smaller flags was held by Mrs. Maybelle McEnrick, Mrs. Amanda Walker and Mrs. Regina Staley of the local convention committee.

Rev. Dr. Robert A. MacAskill, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, gave the opening prayer. Arthur W. Warman, chairman of the Gettysburg encampment committee, welcomed the group, noting the last state convention of the units here was held in 1958. State Senator D. Elmer Hawbaker told the group: "The men you honor saved the Union 100 years ago, but it is tragic that we, their children, while preserving the Union have been unable to bring about unity between North and South. We find the problem of the Negro of 100 years ago still with us today. There is blood being shed today because this has not been solved."

"Today, as it was 100 years ago, people of the North and people of the South do not trust each other. The North has a bad image of the South and the South has an equally bad image of the North. And each is equally convinced that he is right. Controversy is news, and controversy spreads emotionalism, and no one sits down to reasonably consider a situation, to find out why the other things as he does. We must learn to reason together, to respect the other man's opinions and listen to each other with an open mind."

William F. Richardson III, past president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, welcomed the group. Councilman Robert McCoy welcomed the group on behalf of the town.

The closing prayer was given by Rev. Dr. Walter Hallabura, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church. Musical numbers were presented by the Jenkins Sisters of Hagerstown.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Letholders in the Evergreen Cemetery will find an important notice in another column. There is to be a meeting tomorrow for the purpose of transferring the management from the hands of the Directors to the Letholders. This is an important meeting and all should attend.

E. M. Minnich, Chambersburg street, opposite Christ Church, intends to have that delicious and refreshing article, Ice Cream, at all hours through the day, by small or large quantities. This will be a convenience to those desirous of being refreshed in a hot day. He, of course, has it always in the evening, also in prime order.

The soldiers are returning to their homes. A hearty welcome greets them — a welcome to fond hearts and hospitable hearths. May the summons of war never take them hence again. Company G of the 200th P.V. and Company I, of the 210th, nearly all Adams County boys, reached this place on Wednesday. Members of other organizations are arriving by almost every train, and such will no doubt continue to be the case for some time. Again we say, and to all, welcome home!

The battlefield of Gettysburg is still attracting a goodly number of visitors — indeed, the number seems to be increasing daily. They come from all parts of the country, North, East, West, and of late not a few from the South. The more prominent points in the battle lines are visited by all, whilst many take the time to give the whole field an examination, more or less thorough. No one can visit this scene of one of the most stubbornly contested and bloody battles of the war, without being much interested.

The fact that the North is once more in telegraphic communication with Charleston, New Orleans and other principal points in the South, is proof of the extent to which the work of pacification has been carried. Telegraphic communication with the South was broken off immediately after the attack on Fort Sumter. It has so remained ever since. It has been resumed because the spirit which led to the rebellion has been broken and the South is not disposed longer to resist the Government. There may not be the cordiality of former days, but the fact that arts of peace once more begin to thrive is full of promise and encouragement.

It has been ascertained that Robert E. Lee has been furnished with an entire new suit of grey Rebel uniform, and that over one hundred new uniforms have recently been made in Richmond for officers and men to air themselves in and preserve evidences of their crimes forgiven before atoned for.

Valley of the Shenandoah: A letter from Winchester, Va., says: The valley begins to look up, under the speedy prospects of peace. The farmer has returned to his plow and the many broken fields — fields that have been red with blood of both patriots and traitors — testify to his earnestness in trying to redeem his neglected lands, and have them bring as plentiful a harvest as they did before the war's alarm broke on his ear. MAN MANAGEMENT

Said mother to daughter: "Now head what I say:
To manage a husband I'll tell you the way.
I've managed your father for thirty years long
By saying, 'You're right!' though I knew he was wrong.

"If you nag at your husband you'll drive him away.
But flatter him often, and close by he'll stay.
No matter how foolish you think him to be,
He likes to be told that a wise man is he.

"A man must be pampered. His headaches are bad.
A pain so intense no one else ever had.
Although you may think it, don't say when he moans:
'Women suffer worse pain without so many groans.'

"Remember your father, his habits and ways.
Deal lightly with scolding, but thickly with praise.
To manage a husband at times you deceive.
So 'wonderful' call him, for that he'll believe."

tary McCulloch was hailed with joy by the citizens of the Valley. Trains are leaving here daily for Strasburg, Woodstock, Mt. Jackson, New Market, Harrisonburg and Staunton, laden with dry goods, etc., and everything else desirable to a people who have been deprived of even the necessities of life for the last four years. These goods are mostly the property of Northern capitalists, who expect to receive fabulous amounts for their goods, and that in gold and silver, which these people seem to have in great abundance, which they have held fast to throughout the war, knowing that specie would be worth its value, whether the rebellion succeeded or not.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Simon J. Diller, proprietor of the McClellan House, has made a pretty terrace on his lot along Carlisle street. At either end there is a lunette, behind which are two cannons.

Stanley's new book "In Darkest Africa" will be intensely interesting. The people of this county will have an opportunity of subscribing for it. Miss Louisa McCreary is the agent for Adams County.

During July and August the stores of Gettysburg will close at 7 p.m., Saturdays excepted.

The Springs Hotel Bath Houses are open for the summer. Hot and cold baths at all times.

The corner-stone of the New Mt. Joy Lutheran church was laid on Sunday in the presence of a large congregation. Dr. E. J. Wolf of the Seminary preached the sermon. The new church will contain two rooms. The main one will be 35 x 40 and the Sunday School room 30 x 31. The seating capacity will be about 400 and the estimated cost is $3,500. The Rev. H. M. Heilman is the pastor.

Grand Festival and Band Reunion at Mummaburg June 20 and 21. The Mummaburg Cornet Band announces a festival on the above nights. Minor Lunar Eclipse Took Place Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — A partial lunar eclipse took place Sunday night.

The earth's shadow across the moon was at its maximum at 9:49 p.m. (EST). The eclipse was a minor one, with only 18 per cent of the moon's disk covered by the umbra, the densest portion of the shadow.

TOTEM POLE OPENS SEASON

The Totem Pole Playhouse, Caledonia Park, opened its 1965 season Saturday night with a performance of the Jean Kerr comedy, "Mary, Mary." A cast of five, under the direction of William H. Puteh, got the straw-hat season off to a fine start.

The three-act comedy, a Broadway hit for many seasons, is full of witty, clever lines. All the action takes place in the apartment of Bob McKellaway, a New York publisher, who is in the process of divorcing his first wife and planning to marry a lovely young, rich girl. When the about-to-be-divorced couple is brought together to straighten out tax returns and a matinee idol friend joins the group, the situations take on comic aspects that carry the story through a laugh-provoking evening.

Ed Van Nuys, who has just finished a successful season with the Arena Playhouse, Harrisburg, played the part of Oscar, a tax lawyer.

In the part of Bob McKellaway, the publisher, was Tom McKenna, with Gloria Willis playing Mary, his almost ex-wife. James Duncan played the part of Kirk Winston, the matinee idol. Nancy Donahue fills out the cast as Tiffany Richards.

Don Romacle has returned for another season as set designer.

"Mary, Mary" will be playing through the week, with curtain time at 8:30 o'clock. A matinee performance will be given Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock.

THAT LITTLE DIFFERENCE

An unlearned carpenter friend once said to William James that there "is very little difference between one man and another; but what little there is," he remarked, "is very important." That little difference is what separates failure and success, happiness and unhappiness.

We meet with this same "little difference" in literature, art, and in almost every walk of life. We hear the statement: "He is almost great!" Or, "just missed being a genius." What a great deal of difference that little makes! How important it is.

A horse is a horse, but the difference between one that wins races and one that does not is a matter of breeding. There may be no difference between two men in the matter of goodness, but that little difference of education, of initiative, or the will to do may be very important indeed in appraising the worth of each.

Science has created many beautiful synthetic stones — some of them so perfect that only the expert could distinguish one from the original — but still there would remain that "little difference." One would be the genuine, commanding a big price, and the other would be merely an imitation, worth only a fraction of the genuine.

In the processing of our lives that "little difference" can be very important, no matter where or how involved. You have heard the statement that the best is always the cheapest, so that all you have to do is to put the idea to a test and learn. It's that "little difference" that has raised one man to eminence and left the other obscure and unrecognized.

A large corporation advertises for an important man. There are many applicants. All are interviewed, but the one selected is the one with that "little difference!" The best is always better than the "just as good," whether it be a piece of merchandise or a human being to be hired and put to work.

MAUCH'S TALK FOLLOWED BY SHUTOUT WIN OVER ASTROS

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Mauch, the explosive Philadelphia manager, doesn't throw spare ribs any more. Now he conducts lecture sessions at 9:30 in the morning.

The subject of Mauch's dissertation Sunday was lackadaisical play. The object of Mauch's displeasure was outfielder Tony Gonzalez.

And the result of Mauch's disciplinary action was a homer, double and single by Gonzalez that carried the Phillies to a 5-0 victory over Houston for their fifth straight triumph, lifting them to the .500 level for the first time in almost a month.

HAS KEPT TEMPER

Mauch, who has been known to throw spare ribs around the clubhouse when he's fuming, has kept his temper all season long while the Phillies have languished in the second division. But Saturday Mauch had enough of Gonzalez' play and pulled him out in the middle of the game.

Then Sunday, Mauch and Gonzalez had their chat for what the Philadelphia manager termed failure "to execute four plays much less than his capabilities."

"He was right," admitted Gonzalez. "It was my fault I just go out now and do my best."

He did it right away, leading off the first with a homer, tacking on the other two hits and raising his average to .298 while providing the only support Chris Short needed in subduing the Astros on five hits.

DODGERS GAIN GROUND

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, stretched their National League lead to 3½ games over Milwaukee, defeating the New York Mets 5-2 and 4-3 while the Braves split, beating St. Louis 4-2 before getting walloped 12-2 in a wild, rube-rubbed second game.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs rapped Cincinnati 9-7 before the Reds took the nightcap 7-0 and Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 2-1.

The Dodgers put the opener out of reach with a four-run fourth-inning uprising keyed by Willie Davis' two-run single. Claude Osteen, tagged for Ron Swoboda's 13th homer, got the victory for a 5-6 record with ninth-inning help from Bob Miller.

SERIES EJECTIONS

In the nightcap, the Dodgers overcame a 3-2 deficit in the ninth on a walk to Jim Gilliam, a sacrifice, Ron Fairly's run-scoring single and a double by Wally Moon that sent the Mets down to their 10th straight defeat.

The Braves snapped a 2-2 tie in the opener on Gene Oliver's two-run single in the eighth inning while Wade Blasingame completed a four-hitter against the Cardinals.

The Braves not only lost the nightcap but Manager Bobby Bragan and their starting battery—pitcher Hank Fisher and catcher Gene Oliver—in a series of ejections during the fourth inning as the Cardinals pushed across seven unearned runs.

THREE-HITTER FOR LAW

Tim McCarver and Dick Groat each singled home two runs during the uprising as the Cardinals ended a four-game losing skid.

Rookie catcher Chris Krug and Ron Santo each hammered three-run homers while Billy Williams connected for a solo job in the Cubs' first-game victory.

The Reds came back to take the nightcap behind the hitting of Frank Robinson, who drove in three runs with a double and

BILL SKOWRON HELPS CHISOX MOVE NEARER TOP OF HEAP

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Dick Tracy cruising at full speed, Chicago's gangbusters stand a fighting chance of breaking the monopoly in the American League.

Tracy, as Bill Skowron is known because of his winter occupation, handcuffed the Washington Senators 2-1 Sunday and steered the White Sox to within one-half game of first-place Minnesota.

Skowron tied the game with a home run in the seventh inning, then tripled across the winning run in the ninth.

OFF SEASON DETECTIVE

The 34-year-old first baseman is in his first full season with the White Sox, having helped them to within one game of preventing the New York Yankees from capturing their fifth straight pennant last year.

After the grueling AL fight, Skowron and teammate Pete Ward went in for another kind of prevention. They joined a Chicago area detective agency.

Their primary assignment was selling the company's patrol service, but at times they also went on patrol duty, cruising around in a car complete with two-way radio hookup and flashing red light.

TIGERS EDGE TWINS

Skowron plans to return to his role of detective, but before he does he'd like to help the White Sox win the pennant. Right now he's hitting .289 and leads the team in runs batted in with 30 and home runs with seven.

In other AL games, Detroit edged Minnesota 5-4, New York blanked Los Angeles 3-0, Baltimore nipped Boston 1-0 and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 8-4 before losing 5-2.

Skowron's game-winning triple off Pete Richert followed Floyd Robinson's leadoff double. The first baseman's home run offset Don Lock's second-inning homer and ended Richert's string of 19 scoreless innings.

FORD IS RESCUED

Hank Aguirre posted his seventh victory against two defeats although he needed ninth-inning relief aid from Mickey Lolich. Before he departed, though, Aguirre singled across the eventual deciding run in the seventh. Bob Allison's two-run homer in the Minnesota eighth made it close.

Pedro Ramos rescued White Ford in the ninth inning and saved the Yankees' victory. Ford, now 6-6, permitted only one Angel as far as second base.

The Yankees scored all of their runs in the fourth inning, two on a bases-loaded single by Hector Lopez.

RAIN CUTS GAME

John Orsino brought home Brooks Robinson with a sacrifice fly in the fifth for Baltimore's only run. Milt Pappas picked up his first triumph in nearly a month with one-pitch relief help from Stu Miller in the ninth. With two on and one out, Miller got Boston's Tony Conigliaro to hit into a game-ending double play.

The Athletics won the opener with five runs in the seventh inning, three on Ken Harrelson's homer and two on shortstop Dick Howser's error.

Chuck Hinton's leadoff homer in the second inning of the nightcap sparked a four-run Cleveland rally, helping Lee Stange pick up his first victory of the season. Rain cut the second game to 6½ innings.

Lincoln Feature Races Rained Out

The Lincoln Speedway "triple feature" program was rained out Saturday night after the running of the six preliminary events.

The sportsman-modified 25-lap feature will be added to the June 19 program along with the rained out late model 20-lap main event. The United Racing Club will reschedule their rained out feature as their schedule permits. It will be included in a future program at no additional admission charge.

Joe Westerman won the first late model heat followed by John Meeker, Cliff Hoover, Ed Duval. Jake Beard won the second late model heat, Ray Fanning, Slim Devilbiss and Gene Saine followed. Time: 3:43.

Paul Miller capped the first modified heat, Walt Bowman, Brooks Stabler, Ronnie Phones trailed. Bobby Abel took the second modified heat. Bob Tester, Bob Myers and Neil Haight followed. Time: 3:15.

The United Racing Club heats went to Ronnie Rough, winner of the first with Earl Halaquist, Dick Mealy and Ben Landis trailing. Bill Brown took the second preliminary followed by Bob Courtwright, Larry Dickson, Pat McNair.

Other meet records set in the two nights were in the hammer

35-FOOT PUTT ON FINAL HOLE FOR DAN SIKES

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP)—Easy-going Dan Sikes knew what he was doing when he rolled in a 35-foot putt on the final hole to capture the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Championship.

"I had to make that putt . . . who wants to play off with Tony Lema?" the rangy Sikes quipped after he whipped Champagne Tony by one stroke Sunday.

The end came dramatically when Sikes, who hadn't won a tournament since the Doral, Fla., Open in 1963, sank his pressure putt from the edge of the 18th green.

HIS FIFTH BIRDIE

It was his fifth birdie of the round and gave him a five-under par 66 on the Highland Park 6,821-yard layout.

Sikes, who started the final round three strokes back of the 31-year-old Lema, finished with a 72-hole total of 272 — 12 strokes under par.

It was a great comeback for the 34-year-old Sikes, a non-practicing attorney, whose best previous effort this year was a second place finish in the Los Angeles Open.

Lema, who failed in his bid to win a second straight Cleveland Open, also lost the $25,000 first prize, biggest purse on the tour this year.

LECTURE FOR T. GONZALES GETS RESULTS

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Outfielder Tony Gonzalez and Manager Gene Mauch had a private talk Sunday morning that apparently paid dividends for the player, manager and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Gonzalez, admittedly an unhappy ball player because of Mauch's platoon system, was bawled out in the dugout during Saturday's Phils-Houston game for lackadaisical play.

Mauch, who refused to say whether he fined the 28-year-old outfielder, did say Gonzalez "failed to execute four plays much less than his capabilities."

PHILS GET SHUTOUT

He said Gonzalez didn't hustle on a double by Houston pitcher Dick Farrell that scored two runs, including one man from first base; didn't seem to know how many outs there were when he had a chance for a double-play, and twice didn't run hard on infield ground balls.

Mauch replaced him with rookie John Berra. There were hot words.

Sunday, Gonzalez was back in centerfield against Houston. He hit his sixth home run leading off the Phillies' first, doubled and scored in the fifth. He also had a single and boosted his average to .298. The Phils won 5-0.

Did the bawling out produce a changed attitude and his fine day at bat?

"If anything was accomplished," said Mauch, "it was the result of a talk this morning with Gonzalez."

"I think we now understand each other," Mauch added.

Maybe so, but Gonzalez, after hitting his home run in the first, avoided the manager as he returned to the dugout and was pounded on the back by his teammates.

Gonzalez, who hit .278 last year with 40 RBIs, was repentant about Saturday's incident, but still unhappy about being platoon.

HURTS HIS TIMING

"I lose my timing when I sit on the bench and also some of my speed in the outfield," he said.

Gonzalez said, however, he believes he is reconciled to being platoon, although, "I still don't like it."

About Saturday's tongue lashing, the outfielder said, "He (Mauch) was right. It was my fault. I just go out now and do my best."

"They (the Phillies) platooned themselves into first place for 150 games last year. He (Gonzalez) doesn't like it, but he understands."

Former Mount Cagle Coach Passes Away

Peter Caruso, basketball coach at the U. S. Maritime Academy, Kings Point, N.Y., and former coach of several college teams, including Mt. St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, died Sunday at the Veterans Hospital in East Orange, N. J.

Caruso was basketball coach at the Mount during the 1950-51 season. The team won the regular season Mason-Dixon championship and then played in the National Catholic College Tournament held in Albany, N. Y., where it finished fourth, losing to Seattle with the famed O'Brien twins, Johnnie and Eddie.

Duo Does Well In Jaycee Track Meet

Dennis Kane, representing the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, placed second in the javelin in the state Jaycee track meet held Saturday at Kutztown.

Kane tossed the spear 175 feet. The winning toss was 191. Dick Dull, former Biglerville star, has the meet record with a 191-11 mark.

Kenny Sell, who represented the Upper Adams Jaycees, gained two third places. He pole vaulted 11-6 in which the winning jump was 12-6, and high jumped 5 feet where the winning leap was 6-1.

More Need For Elks Golf Tourney

More boys between the ages of 15 and 18, inclusive are still needed for the Gettysburg Elks youth golf tournament to be held Monday, June 21, on the Gettysburg Country Club course starting at 8:30 a.m.

Applications will be accepted until Thursday evening. The forms may be secured at C. E. Williams and Sons, Baltimore St.; Schmitt's Interior Decorations, Chambersburg St., and the Gettysburg Country Club.

Wilt Chamberlain Fined $750 By NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, star center of the Philadelphia 76ers, has been fined $750 by National Basketball Association President Walter Kennedy because of a magazine article which appeared under Chamberlain's byline.

Chamberlain's name appeared last April over a story in Sports Illustrated, titled: "My Life in a Bush League." Kennedy said the article, critical of NBA owners and coaches, "contained many wholly inaccurate statements of fact, all of which drew conclusions from an erroneous premise."

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pitchers aren't supposed to hit, so the baseball theory goes. But don't tell that to John Hawkins.

Hawkins not only authored a shutout Sunday but also was a hitting hero as Pittsfield whipped Williamsport, 6-0, to gain a split in a double-header. The Mets won the first game, 2-1.

Pittsfield's second-game victory gave them three-out-of-four in their showdown series with the Mets and boosted their first-place Eastern League lead to two games.

Hawkins allowed eight hits and collected two singles and two runs batted in himself. The Mets won the opener by scoring two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning.

In other Eastern League action Sunday, Reading and Elmira split a double-header, Reading winning the first game, 7-5, and Elmira the nightcap, 1-0; and Springfield took a twin bill from York, 4-0, and 3-1.

Springfield won its double-header behind the pitching of Frank Kasheta and Tommy Arruda.

Kasheta pitched hitless ball for five and two thirds innings and went on to hang up his second win in five decisions. He allowed four hits and struck out nine.

Arruda hit a two-run homer in his own behalf in posting his fifth victory against two defeats. The lone York run was unearned as he whittled his earned run average down to a sparkling 1.50.

Church To Launch News Ad Campaign

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Plans were announced by the American Lutheran Church for a newspaper advertising campaign in behalf of Christianity, described as the first official denominational program using that medium to promote the gospel.

The Rev. Lester F. Heins, the church's public relations director, said the ads, to be started in Midwestern Sunday papers this fall, will focus on basic Christian truths, without "denominational emphasis."

"The objective," he said, "will be to communicate the Christian faith in a warm and relevant way consistent with the prevailing ecumenical climate."

NCAA BOYCOTT OF OLYMPICS SEEN POSSIBLE

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — In 1928, a dissident National Collegiate Athletic Association boycotted the Amsterdam Olympics, and — 40 years later — the same thing may happen at the 1968 Mexico City Olympics.

This seemed possible following the U.S. Olympic Committee's approval of a measure solidly bolstering the Amateur Athletic Union's role in Olympic preparations.

The USOC, in a special meeting Saturday, accepted by better than the two-thirds requiring vote, 1,339-585, a rule giving any internationally recognized U.S. governing body majority membership on each of more than 20 Olympic sports committees.

IN MINOR ROLE

This junked previous equal membership on each games committee between the feuding AAU and NCAA.

It gave the AAU control of prime games committees, including track, swimming and basketball.

And it left the NCAA sharing a minor organizational role with high school, military and other non-AAU partisan groups.

The revision was proposed by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which disclaimed it was a "pawn of the AAU" as suggested by some NCAA folk.

WON'T BE SACRIFICED

Jack Sulger, chairman of the sponsoring rowing group, said his group was one of 18 independent organizations holding international sanction.

"We don't intend to be sacrificed on the altar of harmony between the AAU and NCAA," said Sulger, implying that eventual coalition could wipe out rowing, cycling, soccer and like autonomous groups.

This brought this retort by an NCAA leader, commissioner Bill Reed of the Big Ten:

"Then our position is that the colleges feel we have been sacrificed on the altar of disharmony."

That feeling was translated into a caucus of some 40 collegiate, high school, junior colleges and coaching leaders, immediately after the USOC adjourned Saturday afternoon.

68 TAKE PART IN GCC PLAY

Sixty-eight golfers participated in the Scotch sixsome tournament held Sunday at the Gettysburg Country Club.

Capturing top honors were Mrs. Robert Davies and Ken Wenk with a low net 66 score. In second place with 68 were Mrs. Ken Wenk and Robert Davies.

Other scores included the following: Third place, five-way tie with 69 scores: Mrs. Sterling Musselman and Howard Shoemaker; Mrs. Max Sumner and Robert Codori; Mrs. S. M. Raffensperger and Romaine Pittentur; Mrs. John Foy and Kermit Deardorff; Mrs. John Welsh and Dr. Donald Wickerham; fourth place, 70, Mrs. Kermit Heretor and Ralph Barley, and fifth place, 71, Mrs. Howard Shoemaker and Dave Saylor.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The European Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinal round is loaded with newcomers today after France, Spain, Czechoslovakia and South Africa advanced in weekend action.

South Africa, France's semifinal opponent, gained the round of four by upsetting Great Britain 3-2 Saturday. France and South Africa clash at Roland Garros Stadium near Paris July 16-18.

Czechoslovakia got by Italy with Jiri Javorsky beating G. Giuseppe Merlo 1-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-3. Italian star Nicola Pietrangeli took the last point by whipping 20-year-old Milan Holecsek 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Spain gained the berth against Czechoslovakia by defeating Germany 4-1.

will get sewer connections more quickly and cheaper because it will be merely a matter of extending present lines. If the area is not annexed it will be included in the Midway sewer system to be built by the Conewago Twp. Authority. The report noted that if the area is annexed the cost of sewage disposal to the remainder of the Midway area will be higher because of fewer connections.

The report noted both the township and Hanover have subdivision ordinances. Hanover also has zoning in effect.

CITE ADVANTAGES

Listed as advantages to Hanover are the tax money from 307 acres and 124 residents to help pay for services including a playground now used by children from the township without cost, and to help pay for the Hanover library now used without cost by the township residents. "Hanover could regulate orderly development in accordance with its zoning ordinance . . . it would be helpful to Hanover to include the area in its plan for overall traffic . . . it would be helpful to Hanover in its mosquito control program."

The report held that if the area is annexed "an industrial plant located in the addition would be able to tie its sprinkler system directly into the Hanover fire alarm system. However, with respect to the matter of fire protection in general, it is the finding of the commission that the fire protection furnished to the residents of Conewago Twp. by the three volunteer fire companies located in Midway, Brantstown and Edge Grove is dependable, efficient and adequate."

Hanover, according to the report could give "complete police protection" to the area. The town has 16 officers, three on duty at all times. Conewago "has one policeman who has a part-time job at Conewago Dairies."

A number of problems are caused by the boundary lines of the area proposed to be annexed. The report held they are "very irregular and in the opinion of the court-appointed commissioners, unnatural."

The report held confusion would result in the matter of police investigation of crime and auto accidents. "If an accident were to occur on Jefferson or Blettner Aves., the Conewago Twp. police would investigate at certain portions of the area and Hanover police would investigate in others."

And "if the annexation is approved the township would have full responsibility for maintenance of part of Jefferson Ave., no responsibility for another part and joint responsibility with Hanover for still another section."

Annexation would necessitate the setting up of another election district, the commissioners held, and require appointment of another assessor. If the area is annexed, the residents would vote for Hanover officials and Adams County officers.

The report showed that if the annexation is approved Con-

$500,000 FIRE DAMAGES CLUB

An electrical defect was given as the cause of an estimated $500,000 fire at the Fountain Head Country Club, Hagerstown, Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. The blaze completely destroyed the club ballroom and storage area for members' golf clubs and equipment.

Following an emergency board of directors meeting, the club president, Louis Fahnestock, said the club is back in partial operation and that as soon as an analysis of the damage is completed the club will begin rebuilding.

Fire Chief John Hall said the flames apparently spread from an exhaust fan in the kitchen between the false ceiling and the roof. The rapid spread of the fire was attributed to the old wooden construction in the part of the building from which the blaze spread. The club was nearing its 50-year mark, having been built in 1920.

"Principles Fought For At Gettysburg Challenged Every Day" Says General

"The principles fought for at Gettysburg are freshly challenged every day from forces outside as well as inside our country. They must be fought for and won, again and again, through continuous dedicated struggle," declared Maj. Gen. John Weikert, USAR (ret.), at the opening of the eighth annual GAR Remembrance Day program of the state convention of the Allied Orders of the GAR in Ziegler's Grove on the battlefield at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Continuing General Weikert said:

"I am honored to be included in your eighth annual Remembrance Day program to honor those who fought to save the Union during the Civil War. I think it is very fitting that your Remembrance Service is being held here at this battlefield and at this statue commemorating our forefathers who comprised the Grand Army of the Republic.

FITTING MEMORIAL

"Thousands of memorials have been erected throughout the world to honor the men who fought in various wars throughout history. But none, I think, is more fitting than this one commemorating the Grand Army of the Republic. There is the magnificent Arc de Triomphe in Paris. There are hundreds of equestrian statues of great generals to be found in a hundred lands. But all of these have a touch of arrogance — of triumph — and of pride.

"But what have we here to honor the Grand Army of the Republic? It is a most unusual memorial. It shows an old man — seated — his eyes seem to look not only across the area where Pickett charged, but to look back across the years and perhaps into the unknown future as well. Specifically, it is a statue of one man, Albert Woolson, the last survivor of the once mighty Grand Army of the Republic. It honors all of the men who made up that great organization of Union armed force survivors. It is a magnificent tribute of love — for it shows the Grand Army as we, their descendants, remember them with much fondness.

OLD, GENTLE MEN

"We knew them as old and gentle men, but if we took them back to their youth onto the battlefields, such as Gettysburg, we would see them represented in this memorial statue, seated, looking out over the ground where the battles had been fought so many years before, half dreaming, half thinking and recalling the scenes of comradeship, of terror, of death, of glory and perhaps other things. These men, our Grand Army of the Republic, were not arrogant men. They were not forceful professional soldiers. They were boys — the Boys in Blue.

"It may seem strange to characterize the men who comprised the greatest Army in the world up to that time as the Boys in Blue. But they glorified in that name, and well they might. They were boys, more than half of them under 21, when their country called them to save their Union, to retie again the bonds that held together the seam of that great fabric of unity, which had and would again, make America great.

FARM AND FACTORY

"They came from the farm, from the store, from the small factory and they took up arms, and walked the long road, fought and died in heat and rain, and because they were willing to give themselves to make it possible, they restored the Union. And then an amazing thing happened. Something so commonplace in our great America that it seldom occurs to us as unusual. But something unusual throughout most of the world and most of history. These men — who had become war hardened veterans, who had marched in triumph through Washington at the end of fighting — these men went home.

That is so simple and yet so great. They held all power, and they shed it without thought and went home, back to their farms, back to their cities, back to their factories, back to building anew and better than before, that in which they were engaged before the interruption of war.

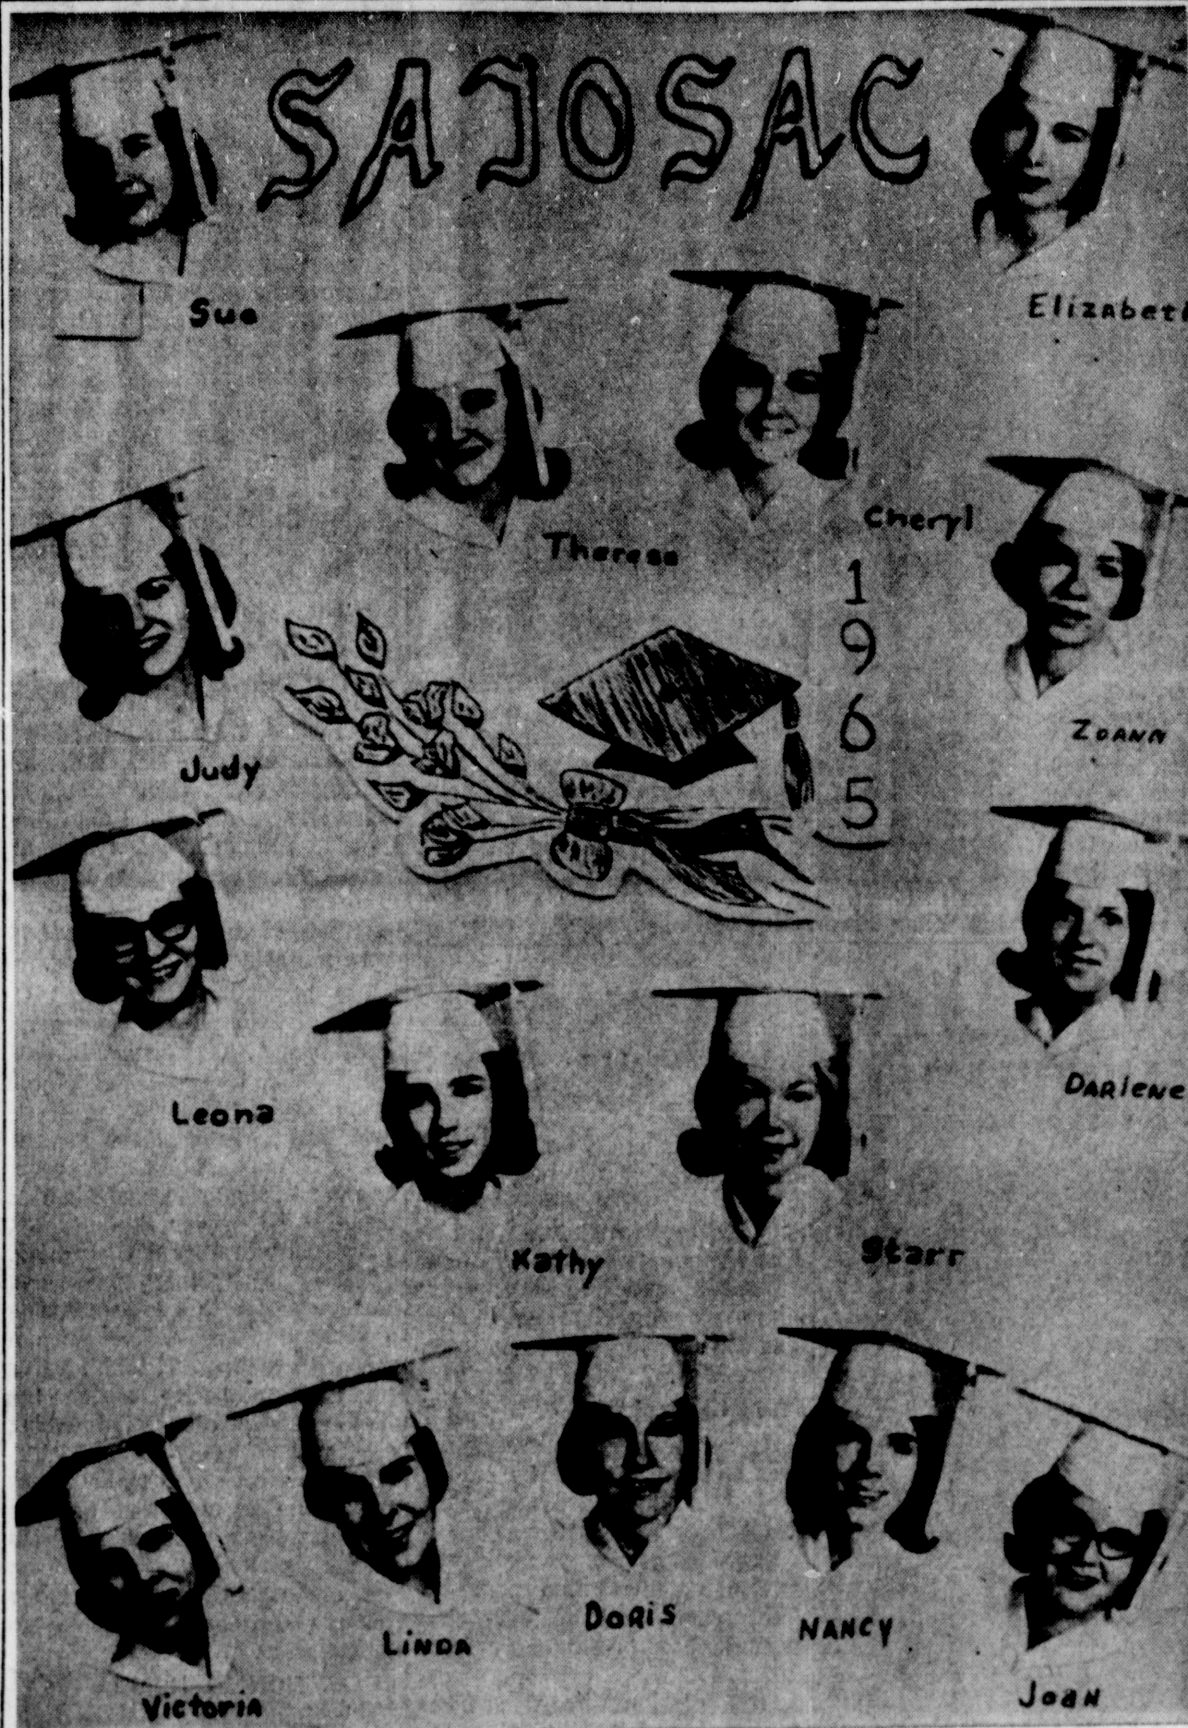

TOO MUCH SUFFERING

"They were not the same men who had gone away to war — there had been too much suffering, and too much privation, and too many deaths and too much slaughter for that. They had gone to war as boys — they returned as men. They were unusual men. The war had not brought to them destruction of their ideals. They did not think of themselves as a 'lost generation.' They did not whine, nor complain of what they had lost. They were proud they had been able to serve their country and they were proud of their country.

"They found there was much to do when the war ended. It seemed to release energies greater than those which existed before. They moved west. They filled up the great vacant spaces of the country. They built railroads and they built cities. They created great factories and they changed their country to make it not equal to what it had been before the war, but something vastly greater and more powerful.

VALUE OF LIBERTY

"And while they were doing this, they established their families and raised their children in love and taught those children what they knew — that God had given this great land to us to do with it what we will, and its greatness depends on every man being as great as he can be, doing as much as he can, to build newer and bigger and better. And so in their later years these men, who had done so much, knew the value of liberty and had kept it for themselves and all people of their nation. These men came to see the battlefields where they had fought for their country in their youth. And in the thoughts those fields brought to them, they could look on the war years, and the years afterward, and find them good. I think they could look to the future and find that it too would be good. Because they could see in their descendants much of themselves — the determination to support and defend the principles which have made this country the greatest nation in the world.

LOCAL CEREMONY

"Just two weeks ago, I took part in a ceremony here at Gettysburg, where I administered the Oath of Enlistment to approximately 30 young men who enlisted in the United States Air Force. They, like the boys in blue, are carrying out by their action the dreams and beliefs of their forefathers. They will serve their country through their skills as airmen, but at heart they are men working to preserve freedom for all Americans.

"These young men are ever mindful that the principles fought for at Gettysburg are freshly challenged every day from forces outside as well as inside our country. They must be fought for and won, again and again — through continuous dedicated struggle. They can never be taken for granted. Already one-third of the world's people are enslaved in the chains of Sino-Soviet communism and the lengthening shadows of its tentacles threaten as many more.

WORLD SHRINKS

"The world has shrunk by marvels of communication and transportation. This has presented new problems and new relationships which require a re-assessment and re-evaluation of many challenges. These new problems cannot be ignored just because we don't readily see with clear eyes the solution, they cannot be tucked away in the attic with grandfather's favorite old carriage lamps for posterity except at deadly peril. A change is upon us.

"Certainly the major challenge now facing us, and the forces of freedom everywhere, is world communism or Marxist Socialism — while at the same time there is another challenge — the rising tide of racial uprising. These two challenges are occurring at a time when change is more rapid and meaningful than in any period since the Civil War. This situation is typified by not only the dramatic fading of the boundaries of empires — but by ever-increasing rapidity of obsolescence in defensive military weapons — and even by ventures beyond the long-standing frontiers of space.

POWER TO DESTROY

"Perhaps overshadowing all the tremendous advances in science is the fact that nations have at long last achieved the awesome power to destroy each other. Today, there is in existence, a single missile which is equal to or has more destructive power than all the devastation created by all the bombs dropped during World War II. There is great fear in some parts of our lands that this terrible power will, by design or miscalculation, break loose and wreak havoc upon nations and peoples. In this life there are few certainties but one of them is that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and surely a second is that determination and readiness to meet challenges is the key to survival.

"We are engaged in a struggle for the hearts and minds of men — and for their souls as well. In things material and military the competition is very real because both sides possess vast power. In the struggle for the spirit and the mind, however, we have decisive power if we will but apply it. From the time of Adam and Eve until now, mankind has recognized and reversed the power and om-

Is Missing After Boating Mishap

LOVE POINT, Md. (AP) — Harold E. Keck Sr., 34, of Maytown, Pa., is missing and presumed drowned after sinking into the Chesapeake Bay late Saturday in a boating accident. Dragging operations for the recovery of Keck's body were called off Sunday evening because of high winds.

Police said Keck and John Swartz, of Columbia, Pa., had been on a weekend outing with their wives when their boats bumped in rough waters. Both men tumbled into the water, they reported, but Swartz made it back to the cruiser, bringing Keck with him. Swartz said he couldn't get Keck into the boat and Keck sank.

a stimulant and not an opiate, and that the miserable ideology they seek to advance cannot succeed in the face of dynamic and determined spiritual advancement.

"The answer as to how we meet our challenges today — and how each one of us measures up to his responsibilities — must be inculcated in the home, the church and the school. In these institutions the sterling qualities enabled our forebears to fight for the harder right rather than surrender to the easier wrong.

They could all straddle a horse but they seldom straddled an issue. Certainly the eagles of victory will not perch long on the shoulders of those who fail to prove their worthiness to carry forward those great moral principles for which our forefathers struggled knowing they represent the most cherished goals of mankind.

"I think the Boys in Blue would understand today as well as they understood their yesterday. They knew that you have to do the tasks before you, and having done them move on to the next assignment. Our nation has its millions of Boys in Blue today — some in the Armed Forces, serving their country. There are great numbers more in industry and the professions, improving constantly making our nation stronger and greater.

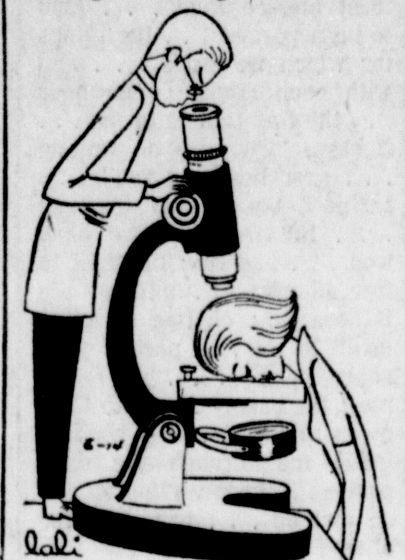

The old men — our Boys in Blue of the Civil War — dreamed of the greatness that our nation could achieve.

Our Boys in Blue today, all of us and our children are doing our best to make that dream come true.

This is the greatest tribute we can pay.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
A lovely writes: I had my hair cut very short in the hope that it would grow stronger and thicker.

But now it is hardly growing at all and, when I brush it, more comes out than ever before. What causes the problem and how can I cope with it?

The Answer: Science has tried for years to uncover the basic mechanism that makes the hair grow. Recent experiment at the University of Pennsylvania employed hormones to stimulate growth with apparent success.

In any case, research has brought some useful facts to light: Hair normally grows at the rate of one-half inch a month — a bit faster in summer. Thus close-cropped hair, taking up to six months to reach the ear, would seem almost to stand still.

Cutting does not hasten growth, as many crew-cut males can testify. Trimming split ends, however, makes for more body.

Falling hair can be put to heredity, illness, tension and external abuse. Strands in your brush may indicate breakage rather than thinning. Besides, the scalp naturally sheds about 100 hairs a day to make room for new growth.

However, if your hair fails excessively, you must seek a doctor's advice. Otherwise you can tune up a fine, thin growth with fingertip scalp massage, keratin or protein conditioners, gentle shampoo products, and the strokes of a soft-soft hairbrush. Of course, any abusive coloring and curling methods must be discontinued.

SCRANTON AND PA. DEMOCRATS MAY COLLIDE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton and House Democrats appear to be running on a collision course in their continuing disagreement over where the state stands financially.

A source close to the governor indicated over the weekend that Scranton, in effect, has taken about all he's going to from members of the opposing party who contend he is misleading the public regarding fiscal affairs.

Meanwhile, the Democrats launched another offensive, claiming that Scranton has underestimated available spending for fiscal 1965-66 by $57.4 million. They planned to submit a state budget of their own.

GROWING DIFFERENCES

The differences that separate the administration and the Democrats who control the House appeared to be growing as the General Assembly reconvened today in a capitol left almost deserted by the Flag Day holiday.

Most state employees had the day off, but both the Senate and the House were to meet. The Senate was expected to adjourn almost immediately, however, out of respect for one of its members, Sen. Martin Silvert, D-Philadelphia, who died Thursday.

Legislative Democrats, especially in the House, have been having a running feud with the administration over his proposed budget of $1.131 billion ever since it was proposed last January.

DEMOCRATS' POSITION

The Democrats have contended that the budget should provide more in the fields of health education and welfare. In a statement issued over the weekend, they said the money was available.

"We want to take the full amount of spending money into consideration in providing funds for needed human services and programs," declared House majority leader Joshua Ellberg of Philadelphia.

Scranton estimates he will end the current fiscal year June 30 with a $102.7 million surplus. House Democrats say the surplus will be $118.6 million. [ISAGREE ON FIGURES]

The administration and House leadership also fail to see eye to eye on other budget figures. For example, Scranton says lapses (unused appropriations) will total $22.1 million for the current fiscal year; Democrats say $32.1 million.

Claiming that Scranton's estimates are off, House Democrats have warned the administration that they do not intend to approve his fiscal 1965-66 budget until all the figures are in. This would be after July 1, so consequently the administration would have to prepare stop-gap appropriations to finance the state government in the interim.

Scranton, in his first public display of dissatisfaction over delay of his budget requests, said Friday the Democrats "should be thoroughly condemned" for insisting that the government rely on stop-gap financing.

DPI SALARY

On another matter, he said failure of House Democrats to approve a $10,000 raise for the superintendent of public instruction to help in securing a top man for the vacant post "seems to me to be extremely reprehensible."

It was strong language that the governor has been unaccustomed to using since a major break with the House leadership could endanger his legislative program.

However, a source close to the governor who declined identification said Scranton plans to intensify his attack on legislative Democrats blocking his fiscal program.

The source said Scranton has seen results of a recent public opinion poll showing that 86 percent of Republicans questioned and 73 percent of Democrats surveyed felt the administration is doing a good job.

PLAN INVESTIGATION

The poll was conducted by E. John Bucci, who regularly surveys public opinion at the governor's personal expense.

On another front, House Democrats were reported ready to launch a legislative investigation of the state Insurance Department and Mrs. Audrey Kelly, state insurance commissioner.

Rep. Eugene Gelfand, D-Philadelphia, has introduced a resolution calling for creation of a five-member House committee to look into the operations of the department.

The resolution has been lodged

WHITE HOUSE BURSTING WITH ART FESTIVAL

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's June, and art is bustin' out all over the White House.

It's even upstaging the President. From the East Room to the South Lawn, the mammoth Festival of the Arts has taken over for today.

Props, costumes, musical instruments, sculpture, paintings and photographs are in place and scores of performers are set to go on stage.

Nothing like this has ever happened at the White House — or probably anywhere else for that matter.

SCULPTURE ON LAWN

You could bump into Alexander Calder's huge sculpture "Whales II" on the lawn, or Helen Hayes preparing to serve as mistress of ceremonies.

A threesome from the cast of "The Subject was Roses" was catching up on rehearsal time they missed Sunday night to get a Tony award for the best play of the year.

All the White House was a stage for men and women of the arts at the invitation of President and Mrs. Johnson.

LADY BIRD SPEAKS

Mrs. Johnson, opening the festival she called "a rich feast indeed," declared all of the arts "are warmly welcomed in this house."

She gave a special salute to "the men and women who create all these wondrous things for our mind's pleasure and our soul's delight."

She said in her prepared remarks they had "earned the gratitude of every American for the beauty, the meaning and the zest you are contributing to our lives."

"There would be nothing for the rest of us to support if a very few did not make the personal sacrifices necessary for the arduous act of creativeness," the First Lady noted.

DRAMA AND READINGS

The Johnsons returned from a weekend at their Texas ranch to take part in the day-long events at the White House that ranged from dramatic performances and readings on the stage of the East Room to jazz and sculpture on the South Lawn.

The festival eased into its 12-hour schedule with breakfast coffee and cake in the State Dining Room.

Basil grows extremely well in a large pot and flourishes for months. The leaves may be used in practically all tomato dishes and they are also delicious added to French dressing or to salad greens.

Want American Nazis Exposed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania chapter of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States has asked that the names and addresses of all members of the American Nazi Party be publicly disclosed by law enforcement officials and chief executives of cities and towns in the commonwealth.

In the resolution, unanimously adopted Sunday at the group's 32nd annual state convention, the Jewish War Veterans also resolved to take the matter to the state attorney general and press for legislation to make membership in the Nazi Party illegal.

They would also prohibit those who announce themselves as members of such groups from holding public office.

The organization announced the election of Harry Segall, Pittsburgh, as state commander; Harold Bressler, Pottstown, as senior vice commander, and Jack Litz, Philadelphia, as judge advocate.

MOONSHINERS ARE HEADING FOR BIG CITY

EDITOR'S NOTE—Facets of U.S. life this week include reports on moonshiners turning city slickers in Virginia. An octogenarian's booming business in Wisconsin. On pigeons—from Miami and pigeons—from San Francisco.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Moonshiners no longer are heading for the hills, they're heading for the big city.

Makers of illicit whisky—usually country boys according to the folk legends—are moving to the city because, says Stanley E. Gaulding, head of the enforcement division of Virginia's Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, "the hunters are driving them out of the woods and because of the lack of foliage in winter for cover."

"They also want to be closer to their markets."

PIGEONS OUTLAWED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If a pigeon could read, he'd know he is outlawed from downtown San Francisco, starting July 1.

That's when a new section of the Police Code, approved by the Board of Supervisors, takes effect. It sets up 10 areas—all away from downtown—where pigeons may be fed. Elsewhere, the code calls for pigeon traps.

But the code isn't clear on who's responsible. So the swarms of pigeons go right on convening at the bus terminal, the railroad depot, on cornices of downtown buildings, monuments, fountains and streets.

"We don't plan to do anything about the pigeons until we see how the public drive for a sanctuary in Golden Gate Park progresses," says Dr. Ellis Sox, the city's health director.

"And even then, it is not up to my department to remove the birds from the downtown area."

"If, after a time, the proposed sanctuary is not ready, then we will ask that pigeon traps be set up in Union Square and other populated areas heavily populated by pigeons. But we do not have funds to finance such a program."

PIGEONS CARRY LOAD

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Pigeons helped put a working mother through college and they may help her win a master's degree.

Marjorie Gleason graduated this spring in Florida Atlantic University's first class as a Bachelor of Arts in humanities. She paid for gasoline used commuting between her Opa-locka home, near Miami, and Florida Atlantic in Boca Raton, 30 miles north, by carrying caged racing pigeons in the trunk of her car and releasing them on campus for training flights back to Opa-locka.

The brown-haired, brown-eyed housewife is shooting now for her master's and has lined up another pigeon-ferrying deal to pay commuting expenses.

Mrs. Gleason said she "just had to finish college—20 years and six children after attending Flint, Mich., Junior College."

She and her husband, Ralph H., came from Flint to Opa-locka when Gleason was assigned there as a Marine Corps aviator during the Korean War.

BUSINESS IS BOOMING

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — After nearly half a century, business is still booming for George Goetsch, 81.

A licensed blaster, he blows up the unwanted river ice jams, rock deposits, farm silos blocking suburban developments. For him, it is hobby, habit and profit.

A tall, big-boned man with large hands, he has never had an accident. "If you had one, it would just be one good one," he says.

Retired from his regular job as a custodian, Goetsch continues to work with explosives ranging from a single pound for some projects up to a ton for quarry and rock work.

CRITIC LIKES RACE CAR TV HOUR SUNDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A happy ending is one thing a television viewer has come to expect.

Therefore the ending of Sunday night's ABC special, "Phil Hill: Assault on Le Mans," came almost as a shock. Phil Hill, our hero for the hour and a real-life professional racing car driver, triumphed over all sorts of difficulties before and during last year's famous sports car race. In the end, he was a loser.

Hill, a three-time Le Mans winner, last year was driving a new, sleek high-powered car, the first American manufacturer's entry in the great French race — and ABC cameras started concentrating on his activities about two days before the start of the run, just in time to record all of his troubles.

A NATURAL FOR TV

The Hill story was a natural for a television special. He is a handsome young man in a romantic and dangerous profession. The background of racing is colorful, the contest is dangerous and exciting.

As one of "The Darin American" series, it would have been perhaps more enlightening if it had fulfilled its promise at the outset to reveal some of the background and life of this daring driver.

As it was, we primarily witnessed his angry impatience with engine trouble and bleak disappointment with the car's failure.

If the program did nothing else, it stimulated viewers' interest in this year's Le Mans race next Saturday and Sunday. Hill is scheduled to drive the American car again and ABC expects to cover portions of it live via Early Bird satellite.

The television networks continue to be fascinated by the now familiar film of astronaut Edward H. White's space walk. NBC reprised it plus the film of the Russian's exploit — on its "Sunday" program in mid-afternoon. CBS had a half-hour special later in which it matched up White's own description of his adventure with the film. Each time it is rerun, the viewer sees something new and fascinating in it.

More Pickets At Girard College

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—About 160 marchers, organized by the Religious Council on Equality, joined pickets of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a demonstration Sunday at Girard College.

The NAACP has been demonstrating at the school since May 1, in protest against its white-only admission policy, stipulated in the will of its founder, Stephen Girard, and upheld by the courts.

The marchers exchanged shouts with about a dozen counter-demonstrators nearby. The two groups were separated by some 100 police.

One of the leaders of the march, the Rev. James F. Anderson, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, said the purpose was to "show our sympathies for the righteousness of picketers in trying to desegregate Girard college."

WINS AWARD IN GERMANY

BADEN-BADEN, Germany, (AP)—A 17-year-old brunette singer from Lansdale, Pa., is the winner of the 5th German Song Festival after she stopped the show when the audience burst into long applause and chanted "Bravo."

Peggy March was chosen the winner from among 12 competitors Saturday night with a slow ballad, "Mit 17 hat man noch Traume" (You Still Dream at 17)—the only slow number on the program.

When Miss March finished her rendition, the audience at the famous Kurhaus here broke into lengthy applause and began chanting "Bravo."

Miss March has been somewhat of a favorite in Germany. Her 1963 recording of "Lady Music" climbed high in German popular music polls.

She was chosen winner by the votes of 11 German radio stations, a television polling organization and members of the audience.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—A small group of American pilots called "The Blue Knights" have flown more than 750,000 miles in hope of tangling with enemy MIGs.

They are members of the U.S. Air Force's 476th Tactical Fighter Squadron and their speedy chariot is the F104 Sky-fighters.

"We've since been once or twice, but they can't come near us," said Maj. Walter W. Irwin, Apple Valley, Calif. "To the best of our knowledge, they were North Vietnamese, not Chinese."

LOADED WITH BOMBS

The Blue Knights got a hurry-up call to speed here from their California base after two MIGs shot down two U.S. F105 Thunderchief fighter bombers on a mission against North Vietnamese targets early in April.

Defending the fallen Thunderchief pilots, Maj. Irwin remarked: "It isn't that the MIGs got them were superior air-planes. The Thunderchiefs were loaded down with bombs."

On their arrival here April 19, the Blue Knights were assigned to keep the MIGs off U.S. fighter bombers.

A BIT BLUE

They've done their job to perfection.

"There hasn't been a single plane of ours shot down by an enemy plane since we came over," said Irwin. "Our striking forces have been unmolested from the air."

Even so, the Blue Knights are a bit blue about the whole business.

They have spent about 1,500 hours in the air on more than 570 sorties—every one to a North Vietnamese target area—and flown three-quarters of a million miles.

CAN'T GET FIGHT

But what most of them really want is to test themselves in combat against the enemy. So far the MIGs have refused to respond to the challenge.

The pilots average age is 29 to 30. At 42, Irwin, the operations officer, is the "daddy rabbit" of the outfit.

The Skyfighter pilots are proud of their plane. It flies at twice the speed of sound and carries two air-to-air Sidewinder missiles plus a 20mm "Gatling gun" that can fire more than 4,000 rounds a minute.

Standard time in the U.S. ranges from Eastern, five hours behind Greenwich, to Alaska Western, eleven hours behind.

BOB HOPE IS GIVEN DEGREE BY WHITTIER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Funny thing happened to Bob Hope at Whittier College last weekend. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Humane letters.

Now he can be billed in academic circles as Leslie Townes Hope, L.H.D. (3), Litt. D., L.L.D. Not bad for a fellow who says he faded out of college after his first semester.

Whittier College, most noted for having given Richard M. Nixon to the nation, cited the famed dropout for "his dedicated service to his nation and his support of Southern California cultural activities, including the Music Center and the new Los Angeles County Museum." Hope was a hefty donor to both.

HABIT WITH BOB

Honorary doctorates are getting to be a habit with Hope. Last week he traveled to Monmouth College, N.J., for another Doctor of Humane letters. The University of Wyoming made him a Doctor of Laws last year.

He got another L.H.D. from Georgetown University when his son, Tony, graduated from there in 1962. Quincy College, Ill., made him a Doctor of Letters in 1958, when John F. Kennedy was also honored.

As the audience at Whittier learned last Saturday, Hope delivers a commencement speech that is far from the norm for

TODAY In History

Today is Monday, June 14, the 165th day of 1964. There are 200 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered the freezing of German and Italian assets in the United States.

On this date In 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the U.S. flag.

In 1934, Benito Mussolini met Adolf Hitler in Vienna. In 1940, the Germans occupied Paris.

In 1944, American forces invaded Saipan in the Marianas. In 1945, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce announced it favored a peacetime military training program.

Ten years ago — Russia offered Japan a draft peace treaty.

Such rituals.

Some of his comments:

"This degree is an act of great courage — and a body blow to higher education. Doctor of Humane letters — that sounds like a veterinarian. I feel as out of place as a five-letter word at the University of California."

Bob also offered a few serious words to the graduates. That part of the speech is the work of one of his special writers — daughter Linda.

COURT TO HEAR FIRM APPEALS ON MILK ISSUE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A hearing is set in Commonwealth Court Tuesday on petitions by two companies challenging the authority of the Milk Control Commission to subpoena their records for an investigation of alleged kickbacks in the industry.

The petitions, seeking preliminary injunctions, were filed Friday by the Hernig Milk Co., Philadelphia, and Zausner Foods Corp., New Holland.

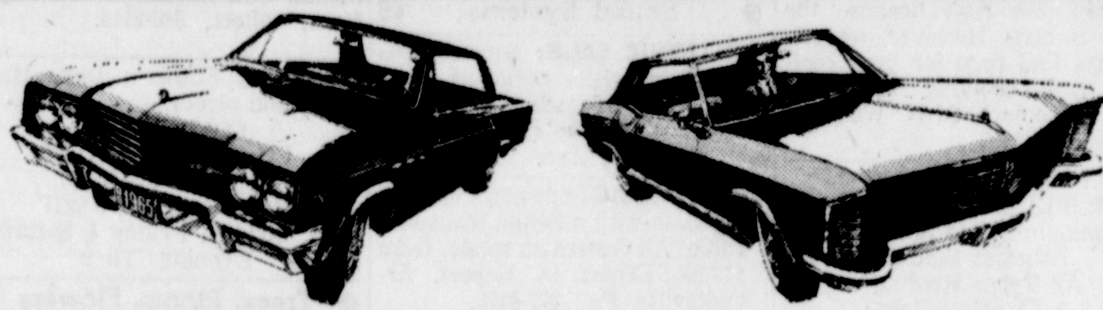

They charged that subpoenas for their appearances at commission hearings "were invalid in that they were not issued in order to enable the commission to carry out provisions of the milk control law."

Judge Carl B. Shelley set the hearing date.

Earlier, the commission had been to court to request contempt citations against the Hernig and Zausner firms and two other companies for refusal to produce their records.

Judge Shelley ordered all four companies to show cause why they should not be held in contempt. He fixed July 7 as the deadline for answering his order.

The other two firms, which have not yet replied, were Lenderbrook Farms, Harrisburg, and Rubright Trucking Co., Inc., Portersville, Butler County.
